

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

The vehicle port control system comprises a capacitive sensor, a port, a lock securing the port, and a control unit. The capacitive sensor senses the presence of objects at a predetermined distance from the vehicle port. The sensor communicates its readings to the control unit, which controls the actuation of the lock.

\Server\data\Clients\SIEMENS\IP00322\PATENT\Application -Effortless Entry.doc